TOGETHER WITH all the improvements now or hereafter erected on the property, and all easements, appurtenances, and fixtures now or hereafter a part of the property. All replacements and additions shall also be covered by this Security Instrument. All of the foregoing is referred to in this Security Instrument as the “Property.” Borrower understands and agrees that MERS holds only legal title to the interests granted by Borrower in this Security Instrument, but, if necessary to comply with law or custom, MERS (as nominee for Lender and Lender’s successors and assigns) has the right: to exercise any or all of those interests, including, but not limited to, the right to foreclose and sell the Property; and to take any action required of Lender including, but not limited to, releasing and canceling this Security Instrument.

BORROWER COVENANTS that Borrower is lawfully seised of the estate hereby conveyed and has the right to mortgage, grant and convey the Property and that the Property is unencumbered, except for encumbrances of record. Borrower warrants and will defend generally the title to the Property against all claims and demands, subject to any encumbrances of record.

THIS SECURITY INSTRUMENT combines uniform covenants for national use and non-uniform covenants with limited variations by jurisdiction to constitute a uniform security instrument covering real property.

UNIFORM COVENANTS. Borrower and Lender covenant and agree as follows:

1. Payment of Principal, Interest, Escrow Items, Prepayment Charges, and Late Charges.

Borrower shall pay when due the principal of, and interest on, the debt evidenced by the Note and any prepayment charges and late charges due under the Note. Borrower shall also pay funds for Escrow Items pursuant to Section 3. Payments due under the Note and this Security Instrument shall be made in U.S. currency. However, if any check or other instrument received by Lender as payment under the Note or this Security Instrument is returned to Lender unpaid, Lender may require that any or all subsequent payments due under the Note and this Security Instrument be made in one or more of the following forms, as selected by Lender: (a) cash; (b) money order; (c) certified check, bank check, treasurer's check or cashier's check, provided any such check is drawn upon an institution whose deposits are insured by a federal agency, instrumentality, or entity; or (d) Electronic Funds Transfer.

Payments are deemed received by Lender when received at the location designated in the Note or at such other location as may be designated by Lender in accordance with the notice provisions in Section 15. Lender may return any payment or partial payment if the payment or partial payments are insufficient to bring the Loan current. Lender may accept any payment or partial payment insufficient to bring the Loan current, without waiver of any rights hereunder or prejudice to its rights to refuse such payment or partial payments in the future, but Lender is not obligated to apply such payments at the time such payments are accepted. If each Periodic Payment is applied as of its scheduled due date, then Lender need not pay interest on unapplied funds. Lender may hold such unapplied funds until Borrower makes payment to bring the Loan current. If Borrower does not do so within a reasonable period of time, Lender shall either apply such funds or return them to Borrower. If not applied earlier, such funds will be applied to the outstanding principal balance under the Note immediately prior to foreclosure. No offset or claim which Borrower might have now or in the future against Lender shall relieve Borrower from making payments due under the Note and this Security Instrument or performing the covenants and agreements secured by this Security Instrument.

2. Application of Payments or Proceeds.

Except as otherwise described in this Section 2, all payments accepted and applied by Lender shall be applied in the following order of priority: (a) interest due under the Note; (b) principal due under the Note; (c) amounts due under Section 3. Such payments shall be applied to each Periodic Payment in the order in which it became due. Any remaining amounts shall be applied first to late charges, second to any other amounts due under this Security Instrument, and then to reduce the principal balance of the Note.

If Lender receives a payment from Borrower for a delinquent Periodic Payment which includes a sufficient amount to pay any late charge due, the payment may be applied to the delinquent payment and the late charge. If more than one Periodic Payment is outstanding, Lender may apply any payment received from Borrower to the repayment of the Periodic Payments if, and to the extent that, each payment can be paid in full. To the extent that any excess exists after the payment is applied to the full payment of one or more Periodic Payments, such excess may be applied to any late charges due. Voluntary prepayments shall be applied first to any prepayment charges and then as described in the Note.

Any application of payments, insurance proceeds, or Miscellaneous Proceeds to principal due under the Note shall not extend or postpone the due date, or change the amount, of the Periodic Payments.

3. Funds for Escrow Items.

Borrower shall pay to Lender on the day Periodic Payments are due under the Note, until the Note is paid in full, a sum (the "Funds") to provide for payment of amounts due for: (a) taxes and assessments and other items which can attain priority over this Security Instrument as a lien or encumbrance on the Property; (b) leasehold payments or ground rents on the Property, if any; (c) premiums for any and all insurance required by Lender under Section 5; and (d) Mortgage Insurance premiums, if any, or any sums payable by

Initials: _____

Borrower to Lender in lieu of the payment of Mortgage Insurance premiums in accordance with the provisions of Section 10. These items are called "Escrow Items." At origination or at any time during the term of the Loan, Lender may require that Community Association Dues, Fees, and Assessments, if any, be escrowed by Borrower, and such dues, fees and assessments shall be an Escrow Item. Borrower shall promptly furnish to Lender all notices of amounts to be paid under this Section. Borrower shall pay Lender the Funds for Escrow Items unless Lender waives Borrower's obligation to pay the Funds for any or all Escrow Items. Lender may waive Borrower's obligation to pay to Lender Funds for any or all Escrow Items at any time. Any such waiver may only be in writing. In the event of such waiver, Borrower shall pay directly, when and where payable, the amounts due for any Escrow Items for which payment of Funds has been waived by Lender and, if Lender requires, shall furnish to Lender receipts evidencing such payment within such time period as Lender may require. Borrower's obligation to make such payments and to provide receipts shall for all purposes be deemed to be a covenant and agreement contained in this Security Instrument, as the phrase "covenant and agreement" is used in Section 9. If Borrower is obligated to pay Escrow Items directly, pursuant to a waiver, and Borrower fails to pay the amount due for an Escrow Item, Lender may exercise its rights under Section 9 and pay such amount and Borrower shall then be obligated under Section 9 to repay to Lender any such amount. Lender may revoke the waiver as to any or all Escrow Items at any time by a notice given in accordance with Section 15 and, upon such revocation, Borrower shall pay to Lender all Funds, and in such amounts, that are then required under this Section 3.

Lender may, at any time, collect and hold Funds in an amount (a) sufficient to permit Lender to apply the Funds at the time specified under RESPA, and (b) not to exceed the maximum amount a lender can require under RESPA. Lender shall estimate the amount of Funds due on the basis of current data and reasonable estimates of expenditures of future Escrow Items or otherwise in accordance with Applicable Law.

The Funds shall be held in an institution whose deposits are insured by a federal agency, instrumentality, or entity (including Lender, if Lender is an institution whose deposits are so insured) or in any Federal Home Loan Bank. Lender shall apply the Funds to pay the Escrow Items no later than the time specified under RESPA. Lender shall not charge Borrower for holding and applying the Funds, annually analyzing the escrow account, or verifying the Escrow Items, unless Lender pays Borrower interest on the Funds and Applicable Law permits Lender to make such a charge. Unless an agreement is made in writing or Applicable Law requires interest to be paid on the Funds, Lender shall not be required to pay Borrower any interest or earnings on the Funds. Borrower and Lender can agree in writing, however, that interest shall be paid on the Funds. Lender shall give to Borrower, without charge, an annual accounting of the Funds as required by RESPA.

If there is a surplus of Funds held in escrow, as defined under RESPA, Lender shall account to Borrower for the excess funds in accordance with RESPA. If there is a shortage of Funds held in escrow, as defined under RESPA, Lender shall notify Borrower as required by RESPA, and Borrower shall pay to Lender the amount necessary to make up the shortage in accordance with RESPA, but in no more than 12 monthly payments. If there is a deficiency of Funds held in escrow, as defined under RESPA, Lender shall notify Borrower as required by RESPA, and Borrower shall pay to Lender the amount necessary to make up the deficiency in accordance with RESPA, but in no more than 12 monthly payments.

Upon payment in full of all sums secured by this Security Instrument, Lender shall promptly refund to Borrower any Funds held by Lender.

4. Charges; Liens. Borrower shall pay all taxes, assessments, charges, fines, and impositions attributable to the Property which can attain priority over this Security Instrument, leasehold payments or ground rents on the Property, if any, and Community Association Dues, Fees, and Assessments, if any. To the extent that these items are Escrow Items, Borrower shall pay them in the manner provided in Section 3.

Borrower shall promptly discharge any lien which has priority over this Security Instrument unless Borrower: (a) agrees in writing to the payment of the obligation secured by the lien in a manner acceptable to Lender, but only so long as Borrower is performing such agreement; (b) contests the lien in good faith by, or defends against enforcement of the lien in, legal proceedings which in Lender's opinion operate to prevent the enforcement of the lien while those proceedings are pending, but only until such proceedings are concluded; or (c) secures from the holder of the lien an agreement satisfactory to Lender subordinating the lien to this Security Instrument. If Lender determines that any part of the Property is subject to a lien which can attain priority over this Security Instrument, Lender may give Borrower a notice identifying the lien. Within 10 days of the date on which that notice is given, Borrower shall satisfy the lien or take one or more of the actions set forth above in this Section 4.

Lender may require Borrower to pay a one-time charge for a real estate tax verification and/or reporting service used by Lender in connection with this Loan.

5. Property Insurance. Borrower shall keep the improvements now existing or hereafter erected on the Property insured against loss by fire, hazards included within the term "extended coverage," and any other hazards including, but not limited to, earthquakes and floods, for which Lender requires insurance. This insurance shall be maintained in the amounts (including deductible levels) and for the periods that Lender requires. What Lender requires pursuant to the preceding sentences can change during the term of the Loan. The insurance carrier providing the insurance shall be chosen by Borrower subject to Lender's right to disapprove Borrower's choice, which right shall not be exercised unreasonably. Lender may require Borrower to pay, in connection with this Loan, either: (a) a one-time charge for flood zone determination, certification and tracking services; or (b) a one-time charge for flood zone determination and certification services and subsequent charges each time remappings or similar changes occur which reasonably might affect such determination or certification. Borrower shall also be responsible for the payment of any fees imposed by the Federal Emergency Management Agency in connection with the review of any flood zone determination resulting from an objection by Borrower.

If Borrower fails to maintain any of the coverages described above, Lender may obtain insurance coverage, at Lender's option and Borrower's expense. Lender is under no obligation to purchase any particular type or amount of coverage. Therefore, such coverage shall cover Lender, but might or might not protect Borrower, Borrower's equity in the Property, or the contents of the Property, against any risk, hazard or liability and might provide greater or lesser coverage than was previously in effect. Borrower acknowledges that the cost of the insurance coverage so obtained might significantly exceed the cost of insurance that Borrower could have obtained. Any amounts disbursed by Lender under this Section 5 shall become additional debt of Borrower secured by this Security Instrument. These amounts shall bear interest at the Note rate from the date of disbursement and shall be payable, with such interest, upon notice from Lender to Borrower requesting payment.

All insurance policies required by Lender and renewals of such policies shall be subject to Lender's right to disapprove such policies, shall include a standard mortgage clause, and shall name Lender as mortgagee and/or as an additional loss payee. Lender shall have the right to hold the policies and renewal certificates. If Lender requires, Borrower shall promptly give to Lender all receipts of paid premiums and renewal notices. If Borrower obtains any form of insurance coverage, not otherwise required by Lender, for damage to, or destruction of, the Property, such policy shall include a standard mortgage clause and shall name Lender as mortgagee and/or as an additional loss payee.

In the event of loss, Borrower shall give prompt notice to the insurance carrier and Lender. Lender may make proof of loss if not made promptly by Borrower. Unless Lender and Borrower otherwise agree in writing, any insurance proceeds, whether or not the underlying insurance was required by Lender, shall be applied to restoration or repair of the Property, if the restoration or repair is economically feasible and Lender's security is not lessened. During such repair and restoration period, Lender shall have the right to hold such insurance proceeds until Lender has had an opportunity to inspect such Property to ensure the work has been completed to Lender's satisfaction, provided that such inspection shall be undertaken promptly. Lender may disburse proceeds for the repairs and restoration in a single payment or in a series of progress payments as the work is completed. Unless an agreement is made in writing or Applicable Law requires interest to be paid on such insurance proceeds, Lender shall not be required to pay Borrower any interest or earnings on such proceeds. Fees for public adjusters, or other third parties, retained by Borrower shall not be paid out of the insurance proceeds and shall be the sole obligation of Borrower. If the restoration or repair is not economically feasible or Lender's security would be lessened, the insurance proceeds shall be applied to the sums secured by this Security Instrument, whether or not then due, with the excess, if any, paid to Borrower. Such insurance proceeds shall be applied in the order provided for in Section 2.

If Borrower abandons the Property, Lender may file, negotiate and settle any available insurance claim and related matters. If Borrower does not respond within 30 days to a notice from Lender that the insurance carrier has offered to settle a claim, then Lender may negotiate and settle the claim. The 30-day period will begin when the notice is given. In either event, or if Lender acquires the Property under Section 22 or otherwise, Borrower hereby assigns to Lender (a) Borrower's rights to any insurance proceeds in an amount not to exceed the amounts unpaid under the Note or this Security Instrument, and (b) any other of Borrower's rights (other than the right to any refund of unearned premiums paid by Borrower) under all insurance policies covering the Property, insofar as such rights are applicable to the coverage of the Property. Lender may use the insurance proceeds either to repair or restore the Property or to pay amounts unpaid under the Note or this Security Instrument, whether or not then due.

6. Occupancy. Borrower shall occupy, establish, and use the Property as Borrower's principal residence within 60 days after the execution of this Security Instrument and shall continue to occupy the Property as Borrower's principal residence for at least one year after the date of occupancy, unless Lender otherwise agrees in writing, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, or unless extenuating circumstances exist which are beyond Borrower's control.

7. Preservation, Maintenance and Protection of the Property; Inspections. Borrower shall not destroy, damage or impair the Property, allow the Property to deteriorate or commit waste on the Property. Whether or not Borrower is residing in the Property, Borrower shall maintain the Property in order to prevent the Property from deteriorating or decreasing in value due to its condition. Unless it is determined pursuant to Section 5 that repair or restoration is not economically feasible, Borrower shall promptly repair the Property if damaged to avoid further deterioration or damage. If insurance or condemnation proceeds are paid in connection with damage to, or the taking of, the Property, Borrower shall be responsible for repairing or restoring the Property only if Lender has released proceeds for such purposes. Lender may disburse proceeds for the repairs and restoration in a single payment or in a series of progress payments as the work is completed. If the insurance or condemnation proceeds are not sufficient to repair or restore the Property, Borrower is not relieved of Borrower's obligation for the completion of such repair or restoration.

Lender or its agent may make reasonable entries upon and inspections of the Property. If it has reasonable cause, Lender may inspect the interior of the improvements on the Property. Lender shall give Borrower notice at the time of or prior to such an interior inspection specifying such reasonable cause.

8. Borrower's Loan Application. Borrower shall be in default if, during the Loan application process, Borrower or any persons or entities acting at the direction of Borrower or with Borrower's knowledge or consent gave materially false, misleading, or inaccurate information or statements to Lender (or failed to provide Lender with material information) in connection with the Loan. Material representations include, but are not limited to, representations concerning Borrower's occupancy of the Property as Borrower's principal residence.

9. Protection of Lender's Interest in the Property and Rights Under this Security Instrument. If (a) Borrower fails to perform the covenants and agreements contained in this Security Instrument, (b) there is a legal proceeding that might significantly affect Lender's interest in the Property and/or rights under this Security Instrument (such as a proceeding in bankruptcy, probate, for condemnation or forfeiture, for enforcement of a lien which may attain priority over this Security Instrument or to enforce laws or regulations), or (c) Borrower has abandoned the Property, then Lender may do and pay for whatever is reasonable or appropriate to protect Lender's interest in the Property and rights under this Security Instrument, including protecting and/or assessing the value of the Property, and securing and/or repairing the Property. Lender's actions can include, but are not limited to:

Initials: _____

This is an Example of a Mortgage which names MERS as the Original Mortgagee (MOM Document).

(a) paying any sums secured by a lien which has priority over this Security Instrument; (b) appearing in court; and (c) paying reasonable attorneys' fees to protect its interest in the Property and/or rights under this Security Instrument, including its secured position in a bankruptcy proceeding. Securing the Property includes, but is not limited to, entering the Property to make repairs, change locks, replace or board up doors and windows, drain water from pipes, eliminate building or other code violations or dangerous conditions, and have utilities turned on or off. Although Lender may take action under this Section 9, Lender does not have to do so and is not under any duty or obligation to do so. It is agreed that Lender incurs no liability for not taking any or all actions authorized under this Section 9.

Any amounts disbursed by Lender under this Section 9 shall become additional debt of Borrower secured by this Security Instrument. These amounts shall bear interest at the Note rate from the date of disbursement and shall be payable, with such interest, upon notice from Lender to Borrower requesting payment.

If this Security Instrument is on a leasehold, Borrower shall comply with all the provisions of the lease. If Borrower acquires fee title to the Property, the leasehold and the fee title shall not merge unless Lender agrees to the merger in writing.

10. Mortgage Insurance. If Lender required Mortgage Insurance as a condition of making the Loan, Borrower shall pay the premiums required to maintain the Mortgage Insurance in effect. If, for any reason, the Mortgage Insurance coverage required by Lender ceases to be available from the mortgage insurer that previously provided such insurance and Borrower was required to make separately designated payments toward the premiums for Mortgage Insurance, Borrower shall pay the premiums required to obtain coverage substantially equivalent to the Mortgage Insurance previously in effect, at a cost substantially equivalent to the cost to Borrower of the Mortgage Insurance previously in effect, from an alternate mortgage insurer selected by Lender. If substantially equivalent Mortgage Insurance coverage is not available, Borrower shall continue to pay to Lender the amount of the separately designated payments that were due when the insurance coverage ceased to be in effect. Lender will accept, use and retain these payments as a non-refundable loss reserve in lieu of Mortgage Insurance. Such loss reserve shall be non-refundable, notwithstanding the fact that the Loan is ultimately paid in full, and Lender shall not be required to pay Borrower any interest or earnings on such loss reserve. Lender can no longer require loss reserve payments if Mortgage Insurance coverage (in the amount and for the period that Lender requires) provided by an insurer selected by Lender again becomes available, is obtained, and Lender requires separately designated payments toward the premiums for Mortgage Insurance. If Lender required Mortgage Insurance as a condition of making the Loan and Borrower was required to make separately designated payments toward the premiums for Mortgage Insurance, Borrower shall pay the premiums required to maintain Mortgage Insurance in effect, or to provide a non-refundable loss reserve, until Lender's requirement for Mortgage Insurance ends in accordance with any written agreement between Borrower and Lender providing for such termination or until termination is required by Applicable Law. Nothing in this Section 10 affects Borrower's obligation to pay interest at the rate provided in the Note.

Mortgage Insurance reimburses Lender (or any entity that purchases the Note) for certain losses it may incur if Borrower does not repay the Loan as agreed. Borrower is not a party to the Mortgage Insurance.

Mortgage insurers evaluate their total risk on all such insurance in force from time to time, and may enter into agreements with other parties that share or modify their risk, or reduce losses. These agreements are on terms and conditions that are satisfactory to the mortgage insurer and the other party (or parties) to these agreements. These agreements may require the mortgage insurer to make payments using any source of funds that the mortgage insurer may have available (which may include funds obtained from Mortgage Insurance premiums).

As a result of these agreements, Lender, any purchaser of the Note, another insurer, any reinsurer, any other entity, or any affiliate of any of the foregoing, may receive (directly or indirectly) amounts that derive from (or might be characterized as) a portion of Borrower's payments for Mortgage Insurance, in exchange for sharing or modifying the mortgage insurer's risk, or reducing losses. If such agreement provides that an affiliate of Lender takes a share of the insurer's risk in exchange for a share of the premiums paid to the insurer, the arrangement is often termed "captive reinsurance." Further:

(a) Any such agreements will not affect the amounts that Borrower has agreed to pay for Mortgage Insurance, or any other terms of the Loan. Such agreements will not increase the amount Borrower will owe for Mortgage Insurance, and they will not entitle Borrower to any refund.

(b) Any such agreements will not affect the rights Borrower has – if any – with respect to the Mortgage Insurance under the Homeowners Protection Act of 1998 or any other law. These rights may include the right to receive certain disclosures, to request and obtain cancellation of the Mortgage Insurance, to have the Mortgage Insurance terminated automatically, and/or to receive a refund of any Mortgage Insurance premiums that were unearned at the time of such cancellation or termination.

11. Assignment of Miscellaneous Proceeds; Forfeiture. All Miscellaneous Proceeds are hereby assigned to and shall be paid to Lender.

If the Property is damaged, such Miscellaneous Proceeds shall be applied to restoration or repair of the Property, if the restoration or repair is economically feasible and Lender's security is not lessened. During such repair and restoration period, Lender shall have the right to hold such Miscellaneous Proceeds until Lender has had an opportunity to inspect such Property to ensure the work has been completed to Lender's satisfaction, provided that such inspection shall be undertaken promptly. Lender may pay for the repairs and restoration in a single disbursement or in a series of progress payments as the work is completed. Unless an agreement is made in writing or Applicable Law requires interest to be paid on such Miscellaneous Proceeds, Lender shall not be required to pay Borrower any interest or earnings on such Miscellaneous Proceeds. If the restoration or repair is not economically feasible or Lender's security would be lessened, the Miscellaneous Proceeds shall be applied to the sums secured by this Security Instrument, whether or not then due, with the excess, if any, paid to Borrower. Such Miscellaneous Proceeds shall be applied in the order provided for in Section 2.

In the event of a total taking, destruction, or loss in value of the Property, the Miscellaneous Proceeds shall be applied to the sums secured by this Security Instrument, whether or not then due, with the excess, if any, paid to Borrower.

In the event of a partial taking, destruction, or loss in value of the Property in which the fair market value of the Property immediately before the partial taking, destruction, or loss in value is equal to or greater than the amount of the sums secured by this Security Instrument immediately before the partial taking, destruction, or loss in value, unless Borrower and Lender otherwise agree in writing, the sums secured by this Security Instrument shall be reduced by the amount of the Miscellaneous Proceeds multiplied by the following fraction: (a) the total amount of the sums secured immediately before the partial taking, destruction, or loss in value divided by (b) the fair market value of the Property immediately before the partial taking, destruction, or loss in value. Any balance shall be paid to Borrower.

In the event of a partial taking, destruction, or loss in value of the Property in which the fair market value of the Property immediately before the partial taking, destruction, or loss in value is less than the amount of the sums secured immediately before the partial taking, destruction, or loss in value, unless Borrower and Lender otherwise agree in writing, the Miscellaneous Proceeds shall be applied to the sums secured by this Security Instrument whether or not the sums are then due.

If the Property is abandoned by Borrower, or if, after notice by Lender to Borrower that the Opposing Party (as defined in the next sentence) offers to make an award to settle a claim for damages, Borrower fails to respond to Lender within 30 days after the date the notice is given, Lender is authorized to collect and apply the Miscellaneous Proceeds either to restoration or repair of the Property or to the sums secured by this Security Instrument, whether or not then due. "Opposing Party" means the third party that owes Borrower Miscellaneous Proceeds or the party against whom Borrower has a right of action in regard to Miscellaneous Proceeds.

Borrower shall be in default if any action or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, is begun that, in Lender's judgment, could result in forfeiture of the Property or other material impairment of Lender's interest in the Property or rights under this Security Instrument. Borrower can cure such a default and, if acceleration has occurred, reinstate as provided in Section 19, by causing the action or proceeding to be dismissed with a ruling that, in Lender's judgment, precludes forfeiture of the Property or other material impairment of Lender's interest in the Property or rights under this Security Instrument. The proceeds of any award or claim for damages that are attributable to the impairment of Lender's interest in the Property are hereby assigned and shall be paid to Lender.

All Miscellaneous Proceeds that are not applied to restoration or repair of the Property shall be applied in the order provided for in Section 2.

12. Borrower Not Released; Forbearance By Lender Not a Waiver. Extension of the time for payment or modification of amortization of the sums secured by this Security Instrument granted by Lender to Borrower or any Successor in Interest of Borrower shall not operate to release the liability of Borrower or any Successors in Interest of Borrower. Lender shall not be required to commence proceedings against any Successor in Interest of Borrower or to refuse to extend time for payment or otherwise modify amortization of the sums secured by this Security Instrument by reason of any demand made by the original Borrower or any Successors in Interest of Borrower. Any forbearance by Lender in exercising any right or remedy including, without limitation, Lender's acceptance of payments from third persons, entities or Successors in Interest of Borrower or in amounts less than the amount then due, shall not be a waiver of or preclude the exercise of any right or remedy.

13. Joint and Several Liability; Co-signers; Successors and Assigns Bound. Borrower covenants and agrees that Borrower's obligations and liability shall be joint and several. However, any Borrower who co-signs this Security Instrument but does not execute the Note (a "co-signer"): (a) is co-signing this Security Instrument only to mortgage, grant and convey the co-signer's interest in the Property under the terms of this Security Instrument; (b) is not personally obligated to pay the sums secured by this Security Instrument; and (c) agrees that Lender and any other Borrower can agree to extend, modify, forbear or make any accommodations with regard to the terms of this Security Instrument or the Note without the co-signer's consent.

Subject to the provisions of Section 18, any Successor in Interest of Borrower who assumes Borrower's obligations under this Security Instrument in writing, and is approved by Lender, shall obtain all of Borrower's rights and benefits under this Security Instrument. Borrower shall not be released from Borrower's obligations and liability under this Security Instrument unless Lender agrees to such release in writing. The covenants and agreements of this Security Instrument shall bind (except as provided in Section 20) and benefit the successors and assigns of Lender.

14. Loan Charges. Lender may charge Borrower fees for services performed in connection with Borrower's default, for the purpose of protecting Lender's interest in the Property and rights under this Security Instrument, including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees, property inspection and valuation fees. In regard to any other fees, the absence of express authority in this Security Instrument to charge a specific fee to Borrower shall not be construed as a prohibition on the charging of such fee. Lender may not charge fees that are expressly prohibited by this Security Instrument or by Applicable Law.

If the Loan is subject to a law which sets maximum loan charges, and that law is finally interpreted so that the interest or other loan charges collected or to be collected in connection with the Loan exceed the permitted limits, then: (a) any such loan charge shall be reduced by the amount necessary to reduce the charge to the permitted limit; and (b) any sums already collected from Borrower which exceeded permitted limits will be refunded to Borrower. Lender may choose to make this refund by reducing the principal owed under the Note or by making a direct payment to Borrower. If a refund reduces principal, the reduction will be treated as a partial prepayment without any prepayment charge (whether or not a prepayment charge is provided for under the Note). Borrower's acceptance of any such refund made by direct payment to Borrower will constitute a waiver of any right of action Borrower might have arising out of such overcharge.

15. Notices. All notices given by Borrower or Lender in connection with this Security Instrument must be in writing. Any notice to Borrower in connection with this Security Instrument shall be deemed to have been given to Borrower when mailed by first class mail or when actually delivered to Borrower's notice address if sent by other means. Notice to any one Borrower shall constitute notice to all Borrowers unless Applicable Law expressly requires otherwise. The notice address shall be the Property Address unless Borrower has designated a substitute notice address by notice to Lender. Borrower shall promptly notify Lender of Borrower's change of address. If Lender specifies a procedure for reporting Borrower's change of address, then Borrower shall only report a change of address through that specified procedure. There may be only one designated notice address under this Security Instrument at any one time. Any notice to Lender shall be given by delivering it or by mailing it by first class mail to Lender's address stated herein unless Lender has designated another address by notice to Borrower. Any notice in connection with this Security Instrument shall not be deemed to have been given to Lender until actually received by Lender. If any notice required by this Security Instrument is also required under Applicable Law, the Applicable Law requirement will satisfy the corresponding requirement under this Security Instrument.

16. Governing Law; Severability; Rules of Construction. This Security Instrument shall be governed by federal law and the law of the jurisdiction in which the Property is located. All rights and obligations contained in this Security Instrument are subject to any requirements and limitations of Applicable Law. Applicable Law might explicitly or implicitly allow the parties to agree by contract or it might be silent, but such silence shall not be construed as a prohibition against agreement by contract. In the event that any provision or clause of this Security Instrument or the Note conflicts with Applicable Law, such conflict shall not affect other provisions of this Security Instrument or the Note which can be given effect without the conflicting provision.

As used in this Security Instrument: (a) words of the masculine gender shall mean and include corresponding neuter words or words of the feminine gender; (b) words in the singular shall mean and include the plural and vice versa; and (c) the word "may" gives sole discretion without any obligation to take any action.

17. Borrower's Copy. Borrower shall be given one copy of the Note and of this Security Instrument.

18. Transfer of the Property or a Beneficial Interest in Borrower. As used in this Section 18, "Interest in the Property" means any legal or beneficial interest in the Property, including, but not limited to, those beneficial interests transferred in a bond for deed, contract for deed, installment sales contract or escrow agreement, the intent of which is the transfer of title by Borrower at a future date to a purchaser.

If all or any part of the Property or any Interest in the Property is sold or transferred (or if Borrower is not a natural person and a beneficial interest in Borrower is sold or transferred) without Lender's prior written consent, Lender may require immediate payment in full of all sums secured by this Security Instrument. However, this option shall not be exercised by Lender if such exercise is prohibited by Applicable Law.

If Lender exercises this option, Lender shall give Borrower notice of acceleration. The notice shall provide a period of not less than 30 days from the date the notice is given in accordance with Section 15 within which Borrower must pay all sums secured by this Security Instrument. If Borrower fails to pay these sums prior to the expiration of this period, Lender may invoke any remedies permitted by this Security Instrument without further notice or demand on Borrower.

19. Borrower's Right to Reinstate After Acceleration. If Borrower meets certain conditions, Borrower shall have the right to have enforcement of this Security Instrument discontinued at any time prior to the earliest of: (a) five days before sale of the Property pursuant to any power of sale contained in this Security Instrument; (b) such other period as Applicable Law might specify for the termination of Borrower's right to reinstate; or (c) entry of a judgment enforcing this Security Instrument. Those conditions are that Borrower: (a) pays Lender all sums which then would be due under this Security Instrument and the Note as if no acceleration had occurred; (b) cures any default of any other covenants or agreements; (c) pays all expenses incurred in enforcing this Security Instrument, including, but not limited to, reasonable attorneys' fees, property inspection and valuation fees, and other fees incurred for the purpose of protecting Lender's interest in the Property and rights under this Security Instrument; and

(d) takes such action as Lender may reasonably require to assure that Lender's interest in the Property and rights under this Security Instrument, and Borrower's obligation to pay the sums secured by this Security Instrument, shall continue unchanged. Lender may require that Borrower pay such reinstatement sums and expenses in one or more of the following forms, as selected by Lender: (a) cash; (b) money order; (c) certified check, bank check, treasurer's check or cashier's check, provided any such check is drawn upon an institution whose deposits are insured by a federal agency, instrumentality or entity; or (d) Electronic Funds Transfer. Upon reinstatement by Borrower, this Security Instrument and obligations secured hereby shall remain fully effective as if no acceleration had occurred. However, this right to reinstate shall not apply in the case of acceleration under Section 18.

20. Sale of Note; Change of Loan Servicer; Notice of Grievance. The Note or a partial interest in the Note (together with this Security Instrument) can be sold one or more times without prior notice to Borrower. A sale might result in a change in the entity (known as the "Loan Servicer") that collects Periodic Payments due under the Note and this Security Instrument and performs other mortgage loan servicing obligations under the Note, this Security Instrument, and Applicable Law. There also might be one or more changes of the Loan Servicer unrelated to a sale of the Note. If there is a change of the Loan Servicer, Borrower will be given written notice of the change which will state the name and address of the new Loan Servicer, the address to which payments should be made and any other information RESPA requires in connection with a notice of transfer of servicing. If the Note is sold and thereafter the Loan is serviced by a Loan Servicer other than the purchaser of the Note, the mortgage loan servicing obligations to Borrower will remain with the Loan Servicer or be transferred to a successor Loan Servicer and are not assumed by the Note purchaser unless otherwise provided by the Note purchaser.

Neither Borrower nor Lender may commence, join, or be joined to any judicial action (as either an individual litigant or the member of a class) that arises from the other party's actions pursuant to this Security Instrument or that alleges that the other party has breached any provision of, or any duty owed by reason of, this Security Instrument, until such Borrower or Lender has notified the other party (with such notice given in compliance with the requirements of Section 15) of such alleged breach and afforded the other party hereto a reasonable period after the giving of such notice to take corrective action. If Applicable Law provides a time period which must elapse before certain action can be taken, that time period will be deemed to be reasonable for purposes of this paragraph. The notice of acceleration and opportunity to cure given to Borrower pursuant to Section 22 and the notice of acceleration given to Borrower pursuant to Section 18 shall be deemed to satisfy the notice and opportunity to take corrective action provisions of this Section 20.

21. Hazardous Substances. As used in this Section 21: (a) "Hazardous Substances" are those substances defined as toxic or hazardous substances, pollutants, or wastes by Environmental Law and the following substances: gasoline, kerosene, other flammable or toxic petroleum products, toxic pesticides and herbicides, volatile solvents, materials containing asbestos or formaldehyde, and radioactive materials; (b) "Environmental Law" means federal laws and laws of the jurisdiction where the Property is located that relate to health, safety or environmental protection; (c) "Environmental Cleanup" includes any response action, remedial action, or removal action, as defined in Environmental Law; and (d) an "Environmental Condition" means a condition that can cause, contribute to, or otherwise trigger an Environmental Cleanup.

Borrower shall not cause or permit the presence, use, disposal, storage, or release of any Hazardous Substances, or threaten to release any Hazardous Substances, on or in the Property. Borrower shall not do, nor allow anyone else to do, anything affecting the Property (a) that is in violation of any Environmental Law, (b) which creates an Environmental Condition, or (c) which, due to the presence, use, or release of a Hazardous Substance, creates a condition that adversely affects the value of the Property. The preceding two sentences shall not apply to the presence, use, or storage on the Property of small quantities of Hazardous Substances that are generally recognized to be appropriate to normal residential uses and to maintenance of the Property (including, but not limited to, hazardous substances in consumer products).

The Role of Electronic Mortgage Registrations

The Need for Electronic Registration

Recent events in the mortgage loan servicing industry have prompted questions about how mortgages are recorded and their ownership tracked. These questions are important for a number of reasons. In today's mortgage finance system, a loan is often sold one or more times after origination and then securitized as part of a pool of similar mortgages. Additionally, the overwhelming majority of mortgage loans are paid off through refinancing or sale of a property long before their terms (such as 15, 30 or 40 years) expire. These facts make tracking the servicer and ownership of every mortgage challenging and, at the same time, absolutely critical to the efficient operation of the mortgage market.

To understand the purpose of a registry of mortgage rights, it is important to understand the nature of mortgage loans. Mortgage loans are complex financial products that come with piles of paperwork (actual and electronic) at every step of the process – from borrower application to the ultimate marketing of a security backed by that loan. Two instruments are fundamental to virtually every mortgage loan today and rise above the rest in terms of legal importance – the promissory note and the security instrument, which is generally a mortgage or deed of trust. The security instrument establishes the note holder's right to the property, securing repayment of the borrower's promissory note upon the borrower's default.

The legal principle governing the right to receive payment under a mortgage note is that "possession" of the note determines ownership and the security instrument follows the note. The security instrument is recorded in the local (usually county) land records office to provide "public notice" of the mortgage lien.

The American process for allowing a borrower to possess real estate while paying the debt, and requiring the lender to record a notice of lien so that subsequent creditors and other interested parties can be aware of the lender's security interest in the real property, has been in place since the early 17th century. For hundreds of years, it worked pretty much the same way in counties across the country.

In more recent history, it also has been common practice to divide up the rights in a mortgage into "legal" rights and "equitable" or "beneficial" rights. Going back to the launch of FHA-insured mortgages in the 1930's, when a loan was made, the mortgage originator was identified in the public records as "mortgagee of record" on behalf of a life insurance company that would purchase the mortgage obligation. All rights to receive payment were sold to the insurance company which would become the equitable owner of the promissory note. To the world, the mortgage originator/servicer would be the mortgagee of record, but the entity would hold only "bare legal title" in order to service the mortgage on behalf of its investor. "Servicing" includes collecting mortgage payments, remitting them to investors, and handling mortgage delinquencies and defaults on behalf of an investor. As the secondary mortgage market evolved, this model was adopted by Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, Ginnie Mae, and private label securitizers.

Under this model, every time servicing obligations changed hands as the mortgage moved through the mortgage business chain, the new servicer was generally required by the investor to record the assignment of its bare legal title in the local land records office. The records also had to be updated and liens released, as they do still today, any time a mortgage was paid off through a refinance or sale of the property.

By the early 1990s, with homeownership continuing to grow and interest rates falling to new lows, it was apparent that the mortgage recordation system that had been in use for nearly 400 years could not keep up with the modern volume of residential real property finance transactions. In fact, the 1993 mortgage refinance boom, still one of the largest in American history, was hampered by a severe backlog of paperwork (which included the assignments between servicers) at land records offices in many areas of the country, often delaying lien releases and related home purchase and mortgage refinance transactions to the detriment of consumers trying to benefit from falling interest rates and compromising the chain of record title. Borrowers, lenders and government officials all became frustrated by this situation which was exacerbated by the growing volume of investor-required mortgage assignments.

The mortgage recordation backlog of the early 1990s was somewhat analogous to Wall Street's "paperwork crisis" of the late 1960s, where clerks were buried in so many paper stock certificates that they could not process them fast enough. To solve this crisis, Wall Street turned to technology and a system of book-entry accounting to track stock ownership. Mortgage companies, banks, investors and government officials saw the positive results of this evolution in the stock market and began to discuss how to apply a similar concept to tracking mortgage ownership rights, servicing rights and warehouse loans (short-term security interests in mortgage obligations prior to their sale into the secondary mortgage market). Out of these discussions was born an industry utility that came to be called MERS, or Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc.

MERS Today

Today, MERS is an integral part of modern mortgage finance. MERS has dramatically improved the quality and availability of information in the residential mortgage process since its operations began in 1997.

The MERS[®] System is a database of information provided by mortgage lenders, servicers and investors. It is owned and operated by MERSCORP, Inc., the parent company of Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc. Using a standard Mortgage Identification Number (MIN), the MERS[®] System tracks changes in holders of loan servicing rights, owners of the mortgage note and holders of warehouse loans.

On the majority of mortgage loans today, borrowers agree at settlement to allow Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc. to be the mortgagee of record – as "nominee" for the promissory note holder – as the note is sold, aggregated and securitized. The mortgage lien and its priority position are properly established in the county recorder's office, while the ownership of the note and other mortgage rights move through the modern system of banking and capital markets, all the time being tracked closely by the MERS[®] System.

Allowing Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc. to serve as the mortgagee of record has relieved the pressures on the public land records caused by repeated transfers of mortgage rights (such as servicing and ownership rights), and thereby helps protect the accuracy and integrity of the chain of title. MERS also maintains a centralized “mailroom” on behalf of its members to receive and disseminate legal notices it receives as mortgagee of record.

The MERS® System supports the mortgage securitization process by giving banks, brokers, loan originators, servicers, investors and regulators the ability to track key information on every mortgage loan registered on the MERS® System. Since its inception, over 3,000 such market participants have registered more than 65 million loans with on the MERS® System. Today, over half of all outstanding mortgages are registered on the MERS® System.

MERS is also useful to borrowers, both directly and indirectly. MERS, for the first time, created a way for borrowers to track the servicer (and sometimes the investor) for their loan. This service is free online at <http://www.mersinc.org/homeowners/> or by calling (888) 679-6377. Through the reduction of paperwork and other efficiencies, MERS has helped significantly reduce the costs of a mortgage which helps keep the mortgage market liquid and ultimately reduces costs to borrowers. In addition, MERS has decreased the time it takes to refinance a loan which can be a significant benefit to borrowers attempting to lower their interest rate or move from a variable interest rate loan to one with a fixed rate.

As the mortgagee of record, it is common for MERS to play a role in foreclosures. If Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc. is the mortgagee of record with the county land records, and the borrower is in default on the mortgage, foreclosure can be legally commenced either by Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc. on behalf of the note owner, or by servicer or other entity if the note owner instructs MERS to assign the mortgage to the servicer or other entity. The process varies in these two ways due to state laws and/or the preference of the servicer or investor. It is important to note that Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc. only initiates foreclosure when it has been instructed to do so by the owner of the mortgage and possesses the mortgage note.

VIEWPOINT

Title Transfer Law 101

BY KAREN GELERNT

Recently, commentators have raised questions about whether certain transfers of residential mortgage loans (made in connection with secondary market transactions such as securitizations) were sufficient to transfer title to the new owner of the mortgage loans and whether such transfers of rights were sufficient to allow the new owner of the mortgages to commence foreclosure, where appropriate.

To better understand these issues, they must be put in their proper perspective based upon the law that underlies transfers of mortgage loans. The underlying tenet, however, is that residential mortgage notes are negotiable instruments which, by their nature, are intended to be liquid and easily transferable by certain key actions outlined in the law. Challenging this notion, irresponsibly questions a well-established body of law affecting trillions of dollars of mortgage loans as well as trillions of dollars of other types of negotiable instruments.

A mortgage loan consists of two important documents: the mortgage note, which constitutes the obligation of the mortgagor to pay its loan; and the mortgage, that constitutes the lien on the real property that secures the note. The note is a promissory note and notes secured by homes are typically negotiable instruments under law. Negotiable instruments have certain special characteristics under law. First, they are easily transferable (typically by endorsement).

Second, a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument takes the instrument free of most defenses to payment, thereby permitting the holder prompt payment. The intent behind the law of negotiable instruments was to enable such instruments to be as liquid as possible, to encourage commerce and lending. As such, residential mortgage loans are intended to be relatively liquid assets, easily transferred and easily realized upon.

In this way, a residential mortgage note is analogous to a check. In the case of the mortgage note, it is payable to the order of a mortgagee. Similar to a check, which is transferred by endorsement, a mortgage note is also transferred by endorsement. An endorsement can be specific (such as "Pay to the order of Joe Smith") or can be blank (such as "Pay to the order of _____"). When a note is endorsed in blank, it becomes bearer paper (in other words, the bearer, or holder, is presumed to be the owner). The analogy would be a check made out to "cash." In both instances, the instrument can be physically transferred multiple times without the requirement of additional endorsements. If you presented a bank with a check made out to "cash" the bank should not question your ownership. Similarly, the ownership by an entity of a mortgage note endorsed in blank should not, in the ordinary course, be challenged.

In other words (and aside from the separate issue of whether the circumstances that are required to commence foreclosure exist with respect to the mortgage loan), mere possession of a promissory note endorsed in blank (whether a check or a mortgage note) should provide the presumption of ownership of that promissory note by the current holder. So for example, a trustee for a securitization that has physical possession of the mortgage note, should be the presumed owner of that note. Any other outcome would put at risk the entire premise and foundation of negotiable instruments law.

In the end, an endorsement in blank does not, and should not, raise a question of ownership of the instrument.

The second component of a mortgage loan is the mortgage. The mortgage and the transfer of mortgage is governed by real property law. The mortgage must be recorded to put third parties on notice of the lienholder. This protects the mortgagee as well as other parties that might assert an interest in the property, like other lenders, judgment creditors or potential purchasers of the property. It protects the mortgagee because, if a third party were to assert an interest in the real property it would be required to give notice to all the interested parties of record, including the mortgagee of record under the mortgage. If an assignee did not record an assignment of mortgage, then the assignee would not be put on notice. However, this would be a risk borne by the assignee.

Historically, when a mortgage loan was transferred it was accompanied by an assignment of mortgage, oftentimes in blank. Because the secondary market was so active, buyers of mortgage loans frequently did not record the assignments in blank and merely delivered the assignments with the related mortgage notes endorsed in blank to the subsequent buyer. Frequently, the servicer of the mortgage loans remained the mortgagee of record and would receive any important notices regarding the related mortgaged properties. However, in order to facilitate easy transfers of mortgage loans, and to ease the burden of multiple recordations of assignments of mortgage in an active secondary market, MERS systems was developed. MERS is basically an agent for the mortgagee of record. So while a mortgage note may be transferred several times the mortgagee of record remains MERS and MERS tracks the intended mortgagee in its systems.

But at the end of the day, it is the owner of the mortgage note that dictates ownership of the mortgage (a premise commonly referred to as “the mortgage follows the note”) as evidenced by Article 3 and Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code, in effect in all states.

Ideally, at foreclosure, the mortgagee of record should correspond to the holder of the note. However, any disparity should not be an acceptable basis to bar foreclosure, since the mortgage should not be the document that is dispositive of title to the mortgage loan. The holder of the note should be deemed the owner of the mortgage loan with standing and right to foreclose.

The chain of assignment of the mortgage may for various reasons be defective, or in the case of MERS, an agent for the holder may be identified as the mortgagee, but the principles of commercial law and negotiable instruments, if applied correctly, should ultimately prevail and allow the holder of the note to foreclose to the extent permitted by the mortgage loan documents and applicable state law. Any other outcome would call into question the foundations and liquidity of negotiable instruments and severely obstruct what was always intended as a relatively liquid market.

MERS Under Attack: Perspective on Recent Decisions from Kansas and Minnesota

by Barkley and Barbara Clark

February 2010

Due to the economic downturn, the business of securitizing loans into secondary markets has come under intense scrutiny. This is particularly true in the real estate area, where loans are routinely bundled into mortgage-backed securities and sold to investors. Since the original lender contemplates the immediate sale of the loan, it is common practice for originators to appoint a nominee, as third-party agent, who remains as mortgagee in the land records throughout the life of the loan. MERSCORP, INC., a privately held shareholder Delaware Corporation, operates the nationwide electronic registry for tracking interests in mortgage loans as they move through the securitization pipeline.

Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc. (MERS), a wholly owned subsidiary of MERSCORP, Inc. that serves as mortgagee in a nominee capacity for the lender and subsequent assignees—upfront and for the life of the loan—is generating nationwide litigation. Distressed borrowers are seizing on the fact that the name of the recorded mortgagee, and the identity of the investor as the beneficial owner of the mortgage loan, do not match. Borrowers (and some bankruptcy judges) are using the mismatch as ammunition for challenging foreclosure actions and avoiding mortgage obligations.

The legal issues have recently come to a head in significant decisions by the Kansas and Minnesota supreme courts. These cases are high-stakes challenges to the MERS registration system. We think the Kansas Supreme Court misconstrued the law in reaching its decision, but the Minnesota Supreme Court got it right.

MERS loses in Kansas. The Kansas case, decided on August 28, is Landmark National Bank v. Kesler, 216 P.3d 158 (Kan. 2009). The Kansas high court recently denied motions for reconsideration. There is a possibility that MERS will take the case to the U.S. Supreme Court in an effort to bolster its position as mortgagee and the mortgage showed an address for MERS on millions of recorded mortgages.

In Landmark, MERS was the mortgagee as the nominee for the beneficial owner of the junior mortgage loan. When the first mortgagee foreclosed, it did not notify MERS even though MERS was the recorded mortgagee. A default judgment wiped out the second mortgage and the property sold to a third party. The court did not decide the issue of whether MERS was entitled to notice and service of process in the initial foreclosure action, an issue fundamental to the MERS business model. Instead, it narrowly held that the trial court did not abuse its discretion in denying MERS' motion to vacate a default judgment and require joinder of MERS. Under the court's analysis, even if MERS was technically entitled to notice and service in the initial foreclosure action, MERS would not have had a "meritorious defense."

MERS is interpreting the Kansas court's holding narrowly, based on its procedural posture (the difficulty of overturning a judgment under the "abuse of discretion standard"), and is suggesting that the holding is limited because the court did not want to vacate a default judgment. Nevertheless, consumer advocates and some commentators are reading the decision as challenging MERS' basic right to notice of foreclosure actions. For example, Dan Schechter, a law professor at Loyola Law School in Los Angeles, suggests that the case "deprives the assignee of all economic benefit from the mortgage due to the involvement of MERS.” He finds it “hard to quarrel with Kansas law” and posits that the law of “most states would be similar.” Ominously, Professor Schechter concludes that dicta in the decision call into question “whether millions of MERS-administered mortgages are really enforceable.” See 2009 Comm. Fin. News 72 (available on Westlaw).

MERS wins in Minnesota. Jackson v. MERS, 770 N.W.2d 487 (August 13, 2009) is the Minnesota case. It came to the supreme court of Minnesota by way of a certified question from the federal district court. Borrowers facing foreclosure brought the lawsuit. Purporting to act on behalf of a class, they challenged MERS’ right to proceed under Minnesota’s foreclosure-by-advertisement statute, arguing that MERS had failed to comply with the statutory provisions requiring recording of an assignment of the underlying indebtedness. Minn. Stat. §§ 590.02 and 580.04 (2006). MERS serves as mortgagee for the lender as well as lender’s assigns.

The Minnesota case turned on the legal question of what constitutes an assignment of a mortgage within the meaning of the foreclosure statute. The court answered the certified question in MERS’ favor, holding that “transfers of the underlying indebtedness do not have to be recorded to foreclose a mortgage” under the foreclosure-by-advertisement statute. Therefore, MERS had no reason to re-record, and MERS was the proper mortgagee, with standing to bring the non-judicial foreclosure. Although the certified question focused on Minnesota’s non-judicial foreclosure statute, the court’s interpretation of the general law applicable to assignments of beneficial ownership interests is important.

How MERS works. Some background about how MERS works helps to put into context the legal issues before both courts. MERSCORP, Inc. tracks changes in the beneficial interests in mortgage loans in the secondary markets. MERSCORP, Inc. is similar to the book-entry systems used by the securities industry since the 1970s. A consortium of key players in the real estate financing industry developed MERSCORP, Inc. and MERS, including the GSEs (Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac, and Ginnie Mae) and the Mortgage Bankers Association; their purpose was to facilitate the operation of the mortgage markets. MERS registers about two-thirds of all residential loans in the secondary market—approximately 62 million mortgages. In a nutshell, MERS is mega.

Typically, the parties use the Fannie Mae/Freddie Mac Uniform Security Instrument. It is a three-party agreement among the borrower, lender, and MERS. The mortgage form names MERS as mortgagee of record in a nominee capacity for the original lender and lender’s successors and assigns. The interest conveyed to MERS is “legal title.” The document explicitly grants MERS the right to act on behalf of the lender as required by law or custom, including the right to foreclose and sell the property. Under the mortgage, the lender (and its assigns) retain “beneficial” title.

Put another way, the MERS’ system intentionally names MERS as the original mortgagee while the originating lender remains as the payee on the note. When beneficial ownership interests transfer in the secondary market from one MERS member to another, (e.g. the note is negotiated and servicing rights are sold), MERSCORP, Inc. tracks these transfers electronically. The idea behind MERS is that the efficiency of the mortgage markets is vastly improved by maintaining MERS as the mortgagee on public records (in a nominee capacity for the lender and assigns) when transfers of mortgage interests (for mortgage loan sellers, warehouse lenders, mortgage investors, documents custodians, and mortgage servicers) are transacted privately pursuant to clearinghouse rules.

The MERS operating agreement also stipulates that MERS will act on behalf of the beneficial owner according to instructions from that member. Rules governing these agency relationships are set forth in member agreements. As a matter of contract, MERS becomes the agent for a new principal, the next purchasing member, each time there is a transfer. Special rules govern situations where parties that are not members of MERS purchase loans. Under these circumstances, the non-member can choose to keep using the MERS system if the servicer is a MERS member, or de-register the loan. When a non-member removes the loan from the MERS system, there is a recorded assignment of the mortgage to the new note holder.

MERS model relies on fundamental legal principles.

Looking at the MERS system as a whole, it relies on well-recognized principles of real property law, the law of negotiable instruments, and basic contracts law. Important analogies in the UCC rules governing security interests in personal property also support the legal model. Here are the essential elements:

- Use of a nominee on a security instrument is well established: Both real estate law and the UCC recognize the validity of using a nominee. UCC § 9-502 (a) (2) states that a financing statement is sufficient if it provides the name of the secured party “or a representative of the secured party.” This section codifies the holding of In re Cushman Bakery, 526 F.2d 23 (1st Cir. 1975), cert. denied, 425 U.S. 937 (1976). That case also recognizes the validity of using a nominee as mortgagee on the mortgage for recording purposes on behalf of the note holder. See generally, 59 C.J.S. Mortgages § 80 at 116 (mortgages are valid even if the mortgagees of record are nominees or straw persons); 2 Milton R. Friedman, Friedman on Contracts & Conveyances of Real Property, § 6:1:3 (James Charles Smith ed., 7th ed. 2007). In addition, by private contract parties can establish agency relationships. UCC § 1-103(b) provides that common law agency principles may always supplement the rules governing secured transactions.

- Article 9 rules apply even though note is secured by a mortgage. UCC § 9-109(b) provides that “the application of this article to a security interest in a secured obligation is not affected by the fact that the obligation is itself secured by a transaction or interest to which this article does not apply.” In other words, perfection of a security interest or the outright transfer of a note is not affected by the fact that the note is secured by a mortgage. The comments clearly state that “the security interest in the promissory note is covered” by Article 9 “even though the note is secured by a real-property mortgage.”
- Under Article 9, there is no need to record a mortgage assignment when the note is transferred. The clear rules of Article 9 provide that when a note transfers, the security interest in the real estate securing the note also transfers. The principle that the “mortgage follows the note” is a common law principle that is codified in UCC § 9-203(g). UCC § 9-308(e) is the analogous rule for perfection. A promissory note evidences the underlying indebtedness. Negotiation occurs when the new note holder takes possession. There are complicated UCC rules that apply regarding the rights of holders, but the basic rule is that there is no requirement to file assignments of the document evidencing the debt.
- A mortgagee can remain in place even though there are subsequent assignments of the note in accordance with private contractual agreements. Under UCC § 9-310(c), if a secured party assigns a perfected security interest, an Article 9 filing is not required to continue the perfected status of the security interest against creditors from the original debtor. The original filing provides sufficient notice that there is a lien. Under real estate law, legal title can remain in a mortgagee without invalidating the security instrument even though the beneficial note holder is another party. Here again, the original mortgage does the trick. Both the UCC filing system and real property recordation statutes provide notice to creditors of the original debtor that there is a security interest or lien on the property. Even if the assignee takes no steps to record a new assignment of the mortgage so that it reflects the name of the new assignee, the security interest remains perfected against creditors and transferees of the original debtor. The comments to UCC § 9-310(c) and longstanding case law support this basic principle.

The basic legal model for MERS is a sound one. MERS' operational model relies on the rules set forth in so-called member agreements. In order for MERS to operate as a reliable and accurate registry, members are responsible for notifying MERS each time there is an event that occurs involving a registered loan in accordance with member rules. For detailed discussion of the relevant law, see Clark and Clark, The Law of Secured Transactions under the UCC, ¶¶ 1.08[10][a][iv] and 2.09[2].

A closer look at the Kansas case. The Kansas dispute dates back to 2004, when a borrower named Boyd Kesler took out a first mortgage on a piece of real property in Kansas. Landmark was the original lender on a $50,000 first mortgage. About a year later, Kesler took out a second mortgage. The second mortgage secured a loan for $93,100 from Millennia Mortgage Corp. Millennia was a MERS member; the parties used a MERS mortgage form identifying MERS as mortgagee. The structure of the deal indicates that Millennia contemplated selling the loan but intended to retain MERS as the mortgagee of record. The court assumes that this is exactly what happened. In hindsight, we know that the original lender on the second mortgage did, indeed, sell the loan to Sovereign Bank. Subsequently, the borrower filed for bankruptcy. Landmark got relief from the stay, and then filed a foreclosure action, eventually obtaining a default judgment.

Crucial facts turn on notice. The first-mortgage lender notified the original second-mortgage lender, named as lender in the mortgage and a MERS member. In other words, Landmark notified Millennia; however, Landmark did not notify MERS even though MERS was on the mortgage as nominee for the lender. Millennia failed to appear as a party, and apparently failed to notify MERS of the lawsuit. Compounding the notice problems, Millennia did not notify Sovereign, even though Sovereign purchased the loan from Millennia.

MERS tries to intervene after new buyers purchased the property. Landmark sold the property without anyone appearing to enforce the second lien. The sales price was enough to pay off Landmark's first lien and left a surplus of $37,000. The borrower tried to grab these funds, thinking it had the right to the money since the default judgment had effectively wiped out the second mortgage. At some point, Sovereign, as the beneficial owner of the second mortgage, learned what was happening and attempted to assert its rights. MERS also learned about the mess and filed motions to intervene, contending that it was a necessary party to the foreclosure action.

The district court denied both parties the right to intervene. The Kansas Court of Appeals affirmed the district court. 40 Kan.App.2d. 325, 192 P23d 177 (2008). The Supreme Court took the case on a petition to review, as a matter of first impression in Kansas. The question before the court came down to a determination of whether the trial court had “abused its discretion” by refusing to permit MERS to join the litigation as a necessary party. Did MERS have a “meritorious defense” or a sufficient property interest to require joinder?

Reading between the lines: the court had trouble with the facts. Reflecting back on the court’s description of the factual scenario, a couple of points jump out:

- The court spends a lot of time wrestling with the language used in the mortgage document and grapples with its terms, finding the document confusing and conflicting with respect to how it described MERS’ role. Under the terms of the mortgage, the lender retains the right to enforce the mortgage but if “necessary to comply with law or custom,” the mortgage provides that MERS can enforce the interests of the lender and assigns.
- Even though the mortgage gave MERS the right to foreclose, the mortgage directed that Millennia, as lender, receive notice. The court had a hard time reconciling the notice provision with MERS’ argument that it was entitled to notice as mortgagee of record.
- The court seems to have trouble sympathizing with MERS, given the facts. MERS is trying to set aside a default judgment after the sale of the property. The way the court tells the story, there are hints that MERS waited too long to object because MERS’ own rules and procedures malfunctioned.

Kansas court misapplies the law. Notwithstanding the tough facts, we think the court should have ruled in MERS favor on the law. The court ruled that MERS, as straw man nominee, essentially lost the power to act for the lender when the note transferred to a new note holder. The court mistakenly failed to recognize that a mortgagee, holding “legal” title under the terms of the mortgage, retains a sufficient interest in the property to act on behalf of a subsequent assignee of the note. Essentially, the court lost sight of long-standing principles regarding the use of nominees on security instruments and ignored fundamental common law principles of agency law. It misconstrued the principle that “the mortgage follows the note.” It wrongly interpreted the maxim as standing for the proposition that when a separation occurs between the note and holder of the legal title to the mortgage, the mortgage lien is wiped out. To the contrary, under Article 9, a new assignment of the mortgage is not required and the original mortgagee continues to act as a vehicle for the purpose of notice for recording purposes. The mortgage remains in place and is just fine.

A closer look at the Minnesota case. This principle that “the mortgage follows the note,” construed correctly, saved the day for MERS in the Minnesota case. In Jackson, the borrowers facing foreclosure argued that the assignees of their mortgage interests were required to record new mortgage assignments in the land records before they had the authority to foreclose under the Minnesota foreclosure-by-advertisement statute. According to the borrowers, subsequent assignments of the underlying debt required recording of new mortgage assignments under Minnesota law.

The Minnesota supreme court properly rejected these arguments, relying on: (a) longstanding rules sanctioning the use of nominees; (b) the principle that since “the mortgage followed the note,” new mortgage assignments were not required in order to keep the mortgage alive and perfected; and (c) a literal reading of the plain language used in Minnesota’s non-judicial foreclosure statutes. This language requires recording of mortgage assignments when there is a change in mortgagees. Since the parties had retained MERS as mortgagee down the assignment line, the court was able to conclude that there had been no assignment of mortgage rights. We agree with the court’s decision and its reasoning.

Damage control. Without doubt, MERS is unhappy with the Kansas situation, both the Supreme Court decision and the way notice of the foreclosure suit escaped detection in the MERS system for too long. To prevent another fiasco, MERS is reminding its members:

- Notify MERS when it is named as a defendant in a foreclosure case even though the member no longer has any ownership interest in the mortgage loan.
- In the situation where there are multiple mortgage holders and the mortgage holders are MERS members, MERS will be wearing multiple hats in any foreclosure action, acting as nominee for the plaintiff and nominee for the defendant. Under these circumstances, the foreclosing party should notify MERS and name it as a defendant. This creates the strange situation where MERS is both plaintiff and defendant.
- Be certain that recorded mortgages reflect MERS as mortgagee and the indexing system reflects MERS as mortgagee.

(MERS Announcement Number 2009-06, dated October 1, 2009, posted on the MERS website).

Bottom line. Given the fallout from the Kansas case, it is not surprising that MERS is looking seriously at an appeal to the United States Supreme Court. We suspect that borrowers will rely inappropriately on Landmark as authority for wiping out mortgage liens in foreclosure cases and will use the case to challenge MERS' ability to enforce liens in bankruptcy court using standing and real party in interest arguments. Jackson is the better precedent. Even with Jackson in hand, there may be times when the simple fact that MERS is the mortgagee of record is not enough. Depending on the jurisdiction and posture of the litigation, MERS may need to connect the dots for the court by coming prepared with evidence documenting its agency relationship with the investor as owner of the underlying debt. Documenting the link, however, is an evidentiary matter. It does not change the law.

Judicial Versus Non-Judicial Foreclosure

In many discussions about mortgage foreclosures the terms judicial and non-judicial foreclosure are used. They involve very different processes. These terms refer to how individual states handle real estate foreclosure. Under both systems, time frames and terms vary widely from state to state. The following is a brief, general, description of both processes. The accompanying chart (see last page) depicts the varying time frames involved in the judicial foreclosure process.

Judicial Foreclosures

A judicial foreclosure is a court proceeding that begins when the lender files a complaint and records a notice in the public land records announcing a claim on the property to potential buyers, creditors and other interested parties. The complaint describes the debt, the borrower's default and the amount owed. The complaint asks the court to allow the lender to foreclose its lien and take possession of the property as a remedy for non-payment.

The homeowner is served notice of the complaint, either by mail, direct service or publication of the notice. The defendant (borrower) is permitted to dispute the facts (such as show that payments were made), offer defenses or present counterclaims by answering the complaint, filing a separate suit, and/or by attending a hearing arranged by the court. If the defendant shows there are differences of material facts, a trial will be held by the court to determine if foreclosure should occur. In the vast majority of cases, however, the foreclosure action is undisputed because the borrower is in default and cannot offer facts to the contrary. If the court determines the homeowner did default and that the debt is valid, it will issue a judgment in favor of the servicer for the total amount owed, including costs for the foreclosure process. In order for the judge to determine the amount of the judgment, the servicer submits paperwork through an affidavit that itemizes the amounts due.

Twenty two states use judicial procedures as the primary way to foreclose. These include: Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Hawaii, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin.

In all other states, foreclosure is usually handled by attorneys who follow a state-provided process. In the mortgage documents, borrowers give lenders the “power of sale” outside of judicial process in the event of an uncured default. Documentation or affidavit issues are not common in these states because of the non-judicial nature of the process.

Next, the court will authorize a sheriff's sale. The sale is an auction of the property open to anyone, and must be held in a public place. Procedures for a sheriff's sale in each locality differ, but the individual with the highest bid is granted the property. After the sale is confirmed by the court, the deed, which transfers ownership, is prepared, recorded and the highest bidder becomes the owner of the property. In most cases, the highest bidder is the servicer, who takes title of the property. The servicer then can sell the property. At this point, it is called real estate owned (REO).

Non-Judicial Foreclosures

The requirements for non-judicial foreclosure are established by state statute; there is no court intervention. When the default occurs, the homeowner is mailed a default letter and in many states a Notice of Default is recorded, at or about the same time. The homeowner may cure the debt during a prescribed period; if not, a Notice of Sale is mailed to the homeowner, posted in public places, recorded at the county's recorder's office, and published in area newspapers/legal publications. When the legally required notice period (determined by each state) has expired, a public auction is held and the highest bidder becomes the owner of the property, subject to recordation of the deed. Prior to the sale, if the borrower disagrees with the facts of the case, he or she can try to file a lawsuit to enjoin the trustee's sale.
